

KLOVE is a professional, ready and easy to use resource for great music, weather, news, community involvement and personal assistance. KLOVE provides the listener with free information, points of contact, community updates and an enjoyable atmosphere in a format that by far surpasses many of it's airwave counterparts. KLOVE keep it's audience informed and provides an avenue for community involvement.

The Navy moves my family all over, and when there is a local KLOVE station, we are informed and encouraged to participate in local events, as well as having a ready resource of professionals who provide assistance on a wide variety of personal and community issues.

Removing KLOVE from the airways would be terribly detrimental to the communities they are available. If anything, there need to be more KLOVE communities ADDED to the airwaves. Just watching the news each day it is very clear that this world needs to acknowledge and learn from the bad things going on, and pursue the positive aspects of life by becoming involved. One person can make a difference, and with positive stations like KLOVE, hopefully many people will choose to become involved and make a difference.
